HAPPY REPUBLIC DAY

Moment of pride and nostalgia

Republic Day is the time to re-dedicate ourselves to the tenets of the Constitution

FOR ANY democratic republic, its Constitution is of vital importance. Being a written instrument, the Constitution serves as the embodiment of the rules of a political or social organisation. In simple terms, it forms the basic structure of any government. And ours is dynamic.

When India attained her freedom on August 15, 1947, it was still being governed under the colonial Government of India Act 1935, which served as the country's governing document. On August 29, 1947, a resolution was moved for the appointment of a Drafting Committee to frame a permanent Constitution with Dr. B. R. Ambedkar as Chairman.

A draft Constitution was prepared by the committee and submitted to the Constituent Assembly on November 4, 1947. The Assembly met, in sessions open to the public, for 165 days, spread over a period of two years, 11 months and 17 days before adopting it. After many deliberations and some modifications, the 308-member Assembly signed two hand-written copies of the document (one each in Hindi and English) on January 24, 1950.

Two days later on January 26, 1950, the Constitution of India came into effect throughout the whole country. Shortly thereafter, Dr. Rajendra Prasad was sworn in as the first President of India at Major Dyan Chand National Stadium. The Constituent Assembly became the Parliament of India under the transitional provisions of the new Constitution.

Since 1950, India has been hosting

Head of State or Government of another country as the State Guest of Honour for Republic Day celebrations in New Delhi. The visit of the Chief Guest at the Republic Day parade is considered as the highest honour that can be accorded to the guest in protocol terms.

The Government of India extends its invitation to a Head of State or Government after careful consideration.

The guest country is chosen after a deliberation of strategic, economic and political interests. President Dr. Sukarno of Indonesia was the first Chief Guest at the first Republic Day celebrations held on January 26, 1950. For a second year in a row this time, no chief guest has been invited to attend the R-day Celebrations at Rajpath due to rise in Corona cases.

Republic Day celebrations in India are also synonymous with the grand parade that marches down New Delhi's Rajpath on January 26. The procession, which displays regiments from the country's military and vibrant tableaux from the states, has been an annual tradition since 1950.

Interestingly, not many are aware that from 1950 to 1954, the venues of the Republic Day parade were the Red Fort, National Stadium, Kingsway Camp and the Ramilla ground. It was only in 1955 that Rajpath was chosen as the regular venue.

Last year, the R-day celebrations kicked off on January 23 with the observance of the 125th birth anniversary of Netaji Subhash Chandra Bose. On Parankam Diwas, Prime Minister Narendra Modi unveiled a hologram of Bose at India Gate, which was since replaced by a huge granite statue of Netaji beneath the canopy in front of the India Gate. This is being lit up specially. The Republic Day celebration lasts for three days and concludes with the Beating Retreat, where Indian Army, Air Force and Navy bands perform.
